National Education Day

11 Nov, 2016

Department of Arabic, BGSBU celebrated National Education Day. The University celebrates National Education Day on 11th November every year, which is celebrated as an annual observance in India to commemorate the birth anniversary of Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, the first education minister of independent India, who served from 15 August 1947 until 2 February 1958. This event was organized for remembering Maulana Azad's contribution in laying the foundations of the education system in an independent India, and evaluating the country's current performance in the field. Glowing Tribute were paid to Molana Azad for contribution to the educational system of the country on modern line.

Speaking on the occasion HOD Arabic, Dr. Shamas Kamal Anjum highlighted the fact that Maulana Abul Kalam Azad firmly believed in universal primary education, girls' education free and compulsory education for all children up to the age of 14, vocational training and technical education. Dr. Shamas Said that Maulana fought for country's freedom and in 1912, he started a weekly journal in Urdu called Al-Hilal to increase the revolutionary recruits. For his contribution – both as an educationist as a freedom fighter – he was awarded the Bharat Ratna in 1992. He strongly advocated the education of women. In 1949, in the Central Assembly, he emphasized the importance of imparting instruction in modern sciences and knowledge. He also said that no programme of national education can be appropriate if it does not give full consideration to the education and advancement of one-half of the society – that is the women.

The Children's Day was celebrated on 20th of November, 2017 in the Department of English, Baba Ghulam Shah Badshah University. The day is celebrated to commemorate the birth day of Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru, the first Prime Minister of Independent India. Pt. Nehru had great love and affection for children and he was lovingly known as Chacha Nehru. On this occasion, the head of the Department, Dr. Romina Rashid focused on the child related issues and said that children are the real treasures of a nation and they should be nurtured with care and love so that they become responsible citizens of the nation. Dr. Rashid emphasized upon the fact that children of the country are real assets, and the future of tomorrow's India lies on their shoulders. The children are like pitchers, they should be watered with proper care so that their rational faculties develop properly, if handled carelessly we can crush their childhood and imagination. She also stressed upon the parents that they should expose their children to the external environment for their overall cognitive and holistic development. She also emphasized upon the fact the educational Institutions should play a pivotal role in imparting quality education to the children, the focus of this education should not be on academics only, but on moral and ethical values which are important in today's materialistic world. Besides this, a drawing competition was conducted in which students of local schools participated. The main aim of this event was to enhance their creative skills. The programme ended with prize distribution to the participants.

Department of English organized a student - scholar seminar on the topic "Feminist Transition" on the eve of Women's Day on 8th of March, 2018. The theme chosen for the seminar was quite pertinent because of the fact that feminist movement around the globe has played an indispensable role in achieving the goal of women empowerment socially, politically and economically. Feminism is multi disciplinary in nature and what is more fascinating is that it moves across and beyond a number of boundaries and stereotypes and thus making it more relevant. This seminar aimed at familiarizing the scholars and students with the rich repertoire of female creativity and sensitize them with the issues like marginalization, exploitation, subjugation of women, gender justice, gender equality that have been clamoring for satisfactory resolution since time immemorial.

Beside this, the seminar was followed by lectures delivered by Dr. Romina Rashid, Head Dept. of English, Dr. Mariya Aslam, Dr. Shachi Sood Assistant Professors in Dept. of English. Dr Rashid talked about the amalgamation of gender – sensitive scholarship into conversation with social science research in the contemporary times and in the contemporary life. Dr. Mariya Aslam talked about the need to encourage interdisciplinary dialogue on the issues facing women's access to work and education across the globe. Dr. Shachi talked on the impact of feminist perspectives on a wide range of social, cultural, theoretical and global transitions that have affected or molded feminism identity, representation, activism and politics in the 21st century.
